Survey of agricultural land

The Rural Support Service of Latvia without the presence of land owner, legal possessor or their representatives conducts an annual survey of land units (cadasters) in order to check visually whether 70% of the agricultural land is managed. The survey of land is performed in areas, where according to information of the State Land Service, the use of agricultural land is at least 1 ha. If the agricultural land is untreated or neglected, then local government applies an additional real estate tax rate of 1.5% and makes up 3% in total.
